LAS VEGAS — InspireDesign, the new contract home furnishings show during the Las Vegas Market earlier this month, drew 60 exhibitors and had nearly 1,100 people registered to attend, according to the World Market Center.

The three-day show, geared for the hospitality and high-end health care design markets, was on the third floor of WMC Building C. Next year's show will take place Jan. 24-26, officials said.

Philip McKay, WMC senior vice president, said in a release that the show succeeded in its commitment to "deliver new opportunities to connect with buyers and expand channels of distribution."

Design Excellence Award, presented by Interior Design Magazine, went to Nano-Tex for general product; Stacy Garcia for the Fashionista Collection; Kravet for the Echo Collection; Jane Hamley Wells for the Para sectional sofa; Phillips Collection for the Silver Console; Aceray for booth presentation; Global Views for the 3-light lamp; Dimension Millworks for the Stealth Door; Leftbank Art for general product; Fermob for the Luxembourg Collection; Korel Design Tiles for Circle Tiles and Stripes; Stimex for the Desk Uno by Karim Rashid; HCI Hospitality Design for the Tub; Nature-maker for Steel Art Trees; Kohler for the Eco Faucet; McGuire for Walnut Swivel Chairs; AF Lighting for the Candice Olson Collection; Home Source International for Bamboo Sheets; and Meyer Fabrics for Frolic.
